

DELTA 185

THE GRAND PIANO FOR THE PARLOUR

Balanced and sensitive touch, colourful, deep sound spectrum and fascinating resonance. Hand-picked spruce, noble materials and well thought-out construction combine to create an instrument of extraordinary brilliance, a wide range of sound and great expressiveness – for concert and lifestyle.

AN ENCOUNTER WITH THE EXTRAORDINARY

This grand piano is truly convincing with its balanced and sensitive touch, which produces countless shades of sound. Its sound spectrum sets standards – rich in colour, transparent and yet of impressive depth. This makes each playing an experience that enchants repeatedly. An ideal instrument for chamber music concerts and for developing your personal lifestyle.

A CONSTRUCTION FOR GREAT RICHNESS OF SOUND

The advanced sound board design ensures even greater structural strength and stability. As a result, the sound gains in duration, resonance and timbre – it sounds more open, richer and even more vivid. The hand-picked spruce sound board gives the instrument exceptional sonority and brilliance, while carefully selected hammer felts ensure precision and a warm, velvety sound development.
